

Moel Famau excursion – LINAC2022 conference

Wednesday 31st August

Liverpool is situated right next to Wales, which offers stunning scenery and country walks. In this excursion, we will hike up Moel Famau, the highest hill in the Clwydian Range. Standing at 562 m, when you reach the summit, you'll see spectacular views of the Welsh Countryside.

The route is along a good path with one steep section as we approach the top. It can get quite windy, so please wear appropriate clothing and footwear.

We will take a break at the top – a good moment to enjoy the views.

In addition to the packed lunch, you will be provided with one bottle of water on the bus. Please feel free to bring along additional snacks and drinks for the walk.
